2011 Annual Report

Letter from the Chairman

Reflecting upon the past year, I hope you will recognize that your Community Foundation is much more than a grant-making organization.

Over the course of its 67-year history, through prudent management and an increased donor base, our assets have grown from a few million to over $80M. Our diverse Board of Trustees represents men and women from a variety of occupations and economic levels. For years, known primarily as a grant-making organization, we have expanded our role to convener, facilitator and collaborator.

As we approach our 68th year, we are again expanding our emphasis. As we embrace a more donor-centric approach, we realize that two-thirds of our grant making comes from donor advised, field of interest, donor designated and agency funds; the remaining one-third comes from our unrestricted funds. While the Foundation has always been careful to ensure that a donor's directives are honored, forever, and has always made certain that we protect the integrity of their wishes, we realize that we can increase the good we do for our community through a more concentrated effort in cultivating and nurturing our donors. More and more opportunities exist today to match our donors' passions with the needs of the community more effectively – and we are ready to meet that challenge.

As you review the pages of this report, we hope you will see how the Richland County Foundation works in partnership with a large portion of our nonprofit community through the pooled resources of our donors. We invite you to think about how you may also partner with us to make even greater impact in the Richland County community.

“Richland County Foundation will be a leader in community development, innovative granting and endowment building to enrich and improve the quality of life in our community.”

Vision Statement 2009

To Accomplish our Mission We Will...

Provide Leadership and act as a catalyst in identifying and addressing emerging community needs.

Distribute Grants for charitable purposes in the areas of Health, Economic Development, Basic Human Needs, Education, Cultural Activities, Environment, and Community Services.

Prudently Manage the Foundation's resources to achieve the maximum benefit for Richland County in perpetuity.

Identify and Cultivate Donors of all economic means and charitable interests.

Assist Donors in establishing funds to meet community needs and distribute proceeds in accordance with the donor's intent.

The mission of the Richland County Foundation is to improve and enhance the quality of life in Richland County through strategic philanthropy and community leadership.

Jim Weldon was passionate about sports and family, but he also valued the importance of college scholarships for young people. He combined those interests by first establishing three individual funds at Richland County Foundation (RCF) – recognizing the specific interests of his mother, father and himself. Similarly, he left a bequest of scholarship funds to the University Club Educational Foundation.

Aware of the existing scholarship program at RCF and of our reputation for prudent management, community leadership and working to fulfill donors' wishes, members of the University Club Educational Foundation worked with RCF staff to develop procedures for awarding college scholarships in accordance with Jim's wishes.

Since coming to RCF in 2008, the University Club Educational Foundation's Weldon Scholarship Funds have awarded 56 scholarships in the amount of $119,000. The endowment will continue to grow and assist college students forever.

A Comprehensive Look at RCF

Paul R. Tappan, one of the seven Founders also established a Field of Interest Fund at the Foundation which bears his name.

It starts with you...

To fully understand the work of the foundation is to grasp the connection between its many donors and the grant making. Our work is to match a donor's passion, personal values and beliefs with the current and emerging needs of the community. Over $2.5 million in grants were made in 2011, most remaining right here in Richland County.

From its modest beginnings with seven founders and a few thousand dollars in 1945, the Richland County Foundation, through its scores of donors, has grown and flourished to over 300 component funds and over $80 million in assets.

It was the purpose of the Founders to bring into being a philanthropic vehicle to provide "all possible advantages, advancements, betterments, facilities and opportunities...for the people of Richland County and vicinity, equal and similar to those enjoyed by people in other progressive communities." Because of this far-sighted wisdom of the Founders, Richland County Foundation has indeed become a foundation of the community.

As your story unfolds in the next several pages, we will demonstrate the tremendous impact a group of donors working together with their community foundation can make. When done to its greatest potential, fulfilling our donors' intentions allows Richland County Foundation to realize its own mission – improving the quality of life in Richland County.

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Jackson established a donor-advised fund, the Dr. J. Bruce and Nancy L. Jackson Fund. Dr. Jackson is currently a member of the RCF Board of Trustees.

A corporate donor-advised fund, the MT Business Technologies Community Fund, was established by MT Business Technologies in 2011.

Fulfilling Our Donors Charitable Desires...

Summer Swimming Pool Program

In 2011, the City of Mansfield continued to experience financial conditions that limited the scope of their programming to safety service and infrastructure maintenance.

In view of the situation, opening the pools was once again a concern for the City of Mansfield. With the leadership of one Foundation donor through his donor advised fund and the passion of five other donors of such funds, $61,000 was raised to answer the call. Thousands of kids were able to have a safe, fun and refreshing experience over the summer.

The Eleanor McCollum Foundation Fund story – the positive impact on one community

Richland County Foundation has worked with a private foundation, the Eleanor McCollum Foundation, to set up a donor advised fund to support the community in and around Plymouth. Eleanor supported many hometown projects over her lifetime. After her death, she continues that support even today. Since 2005, over $180,000 has been granted back into the Plymouth community. The Plymouth Historical Society continues to receive operating funds and assistance in maintaining the building as it was one of her favorite projects. As Eleanor was personally involved in the arts, her fund has supported the local schools to improve their fine arts, performing arts, and music and digital arts departments. Her fund also supports scholarships for students graduating from Plymouth High School and has assisted in projects initiated by the Plymouth-Shiloh Boosters, the Village of Shiloh and the Plymouth-Shiloh Food Pantry.

Because of our highly professional staff that consistently keeps in touch with the nonprofit community and their needs, the Richland County Foundation specializes in connecting donors and their causes. Donors can be individuals, nonprofit organizations or private foundations.

Matching Donors with Community Projects and Programs...

Ohio Bird Sanctuary

With grants from donor advised funds, designated funds and unrestricted funds the Ohio Bird Sanctuary was able to improve its facilities with a new roof and windows which allowed them to expand the programming and better carry out their mission.

Ed Kulka, board member of the Ohio Bird Sanctuary, proudly introduces Bruce Cummins, RCF board member, to the very noisy red-shouldered hawk named Diesel, as he shows off the new windows and roof of the upper building, that will someday be the Visitor's Center.

Mansfield Art Center

Across the country funding for the arts continues to be reduced. In 2011 the Mansfield Art Center benefited from grants awarded through four donor advised funds and several already established donor designated funds at the Foundation which supported their operations and programming.

Over $152,012 in grants assisted in this effort.

Partnering Donor Advised Funds with Unrestricted Funds...

Ashland University – the Dwight Schar College of Nursing

In 2011 Ashland University recognized the benefits of growing a nursing program in Richland County. Several donors with advised funds at Richland County Foundation, along with the Foundation's Board of Trustees, agreed that the value of having such a college in our area would fulfill both the educational needs of students and the unanswered demand for nurses. Through the partnering of six individual donor advised funds and the unrestricted funds at the Foundation, over $500,000 in grants were approved for this project.

At times the Foundation is able to connect the passion of an individual donor to a project or program that comes to the Foundation for funding through the unrestricted funds. At this time funds from unrestricted and donor advised funds are combined to make an even greater impact for the organization or community at large.

Agencies as the Donor— Establishing Agency Funds...

Agency Funds, either endowed or un-endowed, provide an agency with annual unrestricted income to be used however the agency deems necessary. The agency also benefits from the Foundation's professional asset management.

Dr. Ozeas Costa, assistant professor at OSU Mansfield, works with a student in the campus wetlands.

The Ohio State University at Mansfield - the story of endowment...

In the early 1990s, as part of a larger capital campaign OSU-Mansfield established three endowment funds which continue to benefit the campus today. These funds enable our local university to improve the quality of education and services. Nearly $1 million dollars has been granted from these funds since they were established in 1993, and the total current market value of those three endowment funds today is over $1.4 million.

The Faculty Endowment Fund ensures continued professional development for the regular faculty; the Business Endowment provides on-going support for the business program that is a link to the Fisher College of Business at the Columbus campus; and the Scholarship Endowment provides money for scholarships to the students at OSU-M.

Richland Newhope's Story

Richland Newhope Industries, Inc. uses their agency fund to support the Innovations in Integration projects which are important to carrying out their mission of integrating individuals with disabilities back into the community. Established in 2005, the fund has since awarded over $64,000 in grants and the endowment continues to grow, valued currently at over $500,000.

The Innovations in Integration projects introduce clients to many new experiences. This client enjoys the art classes at the "Element of Art" studio in downtown Mansfield.

Connecting Donors to the “Community Endowment”...

The Center, Third Street, MedCentral, the Mental Health & Recovery Board and the Foundation...

In 2011, a remarkable collaboration among several health care providers resulted in erasing a 2,400 patient waiting list at Third Street Health Services, prevented an anticipated waiting list for adult psychiatric patients at The Center, and avoided an overcrowding at MedCentral Health System’s Emergency Departments. Through a grant from the unrestricted funds at Richland County Foundation, space was renovated at The Center to allow one full-time family physician to provide for the special care needed by their clients, thereby relieving the other institutions of this time-consuming and expensive burden.

The Center CEO, Veronica Groff, and Jared Pollick, CEO of Third Street Family Health Services, join LPN, Sharon Gallagher, and receptionist, Tamika Wade, in The Center’s newly renovated physician’s suite.

Library 2-1-1

After years of discussion, a partnership among Job and Family Services, the Mansfield Richland County Public Library, United Way of Richland County and the Richland County Foundation crafted agreements for a centralized information and referral (I & R) system in 2005. The result from this early partnership is now the more sophisticated First Call 2-1-1 of Richland County.

With increased demand for service the Library purchased the building across the street from the main building for the expansion. With the RCF grant from the unrestricted budget to assist in connecting the old and new technologies, 2-1-1 now has the ability to better serve those in need of services.

The far-sighted vision of our donors who leave a gift to the Foundation with no specific direction allows the Foundation’s Board of Trustees to be dynamic in its approach to addressing the evolving, ever-changing needs of the community through the “Community Endowment.” The pooling of 57 individual unrestricted funds (Community Endowment) represents approximately one-third of our overall grant making annually.

Become a Donor – Now...

The Foundation works with professional advisors for donors to plan future gifts to the Foundation that may offer the maximum in tax advantages as well.

Our donors are as varied as the charities and causes they support. Richland County Foundation offers a variety of instruments to allow an individual, family or organization to become a donor and realize their charitable dreams. Individuals may choose to pool their resources with an already existing fund or may wish to establish a new fund.

Become a Donor Now Through These Types of Gifts:

Cash gifts or by check or credit card offer the greatest tax deductibility.

Private foundation conversion can relieve you of the burden of responsibility and costly administration while continuing your charitable purposes forever.

Stocks, bonds, and mutual funds can become a charitable deduction for the current market value, even if you bought it for considerably less, and may allow you to avoid paying capital gains tax.

Closely held stock offer you a tax deduction for their appraised value and allow you to avoid paying capital gains tax.

The Fellowship Program is a vehicle for donors who wish to make a gift of $1,000 or more to benefit the "Community Endowment." Many people never consider themselves philanthropists, but by simply pooling their gift with others, they can make a big difference in the community for generations to come. The "Community Endowment" at Richland County Foundation allows the Board of Trustees to award grants to continue to address the ever-changing needs across Richland County.

The Women's Fund...

The current Advisory Committee continues to be committed to increasing the permanent endowment and fulfilling the mission as designed by the original founders of the Women's Fund. Since beginning to award grants in 1998, the Women's Fund has approved over $220,000 in grants and scholarships and their endowment has still grown to over $800,000.

The Women's Fund was established in 1996 by a group of ten women community leaders to promote philanthropy among women and to build a permanent endowment which would provide funding for programs and projects in the Richland County area that empower women to achieve their full potential.

"Annual Campaign"

In early 2004, a group of committed young professionals came together to give rise to the Connections Fund at Richland County Foundation. Their purpose was to connect other young professionals to each other and to the community as well as to promote the idea of "giving back" to the community through pooled resources.

By establishing a permanent endowment and annual membership dues, the Connections Fund now awards grants each year to nonprofit organizations for a variety of focus areas. In 2011 Connections awarded $5,000 in grants, bringing the total grants awarded since 2005 to $41,356. Through its membership, the Fund's endowment, currently over $60,000, continues to grow each year to make even greater impact in the community for ever.

Allie Watson, co-chair of the Connections Advisory Committee, and member, Nancy Them, greet Boo and Chan Stevens at the Connections annual Winter Gala.

Establish a Fund...

Establishing a fund within the Foundation allows donors the freedom to specify how they want their charitable dollars to be used now and in the future. By selecting among the various options, an unrestricted fund, a field of interest fund, a donor designated fund, a donor advised fund, an agency fund, or a scholarship fund, donors can tailor their fund to be as specific or as broad as they wish in order to carry out their philanthropy.

The Foundation also works with professional advisors to assist in the charitable giving process.

Unrestricted Funds offer the donor and Foundation the broadest options to address and to impact the community's current and ever-changing needs.

Charitable Remainder Trusts pay the donor an income for life while offering an immediate tax deduction for a portion of the gift.

Life Insurance

By naming the foundation as the beneficiary a donor can make a significant charitable impact at a minimal cost to the donor. By donating an existing policy, a donor can take an immediate tax deduction that is equal to the policy's cash value.

Retirement Plans

By naming the Richland County Foundation as the beneficiary of the donor's retirement plan, he/she can avoid taxes, leave more money to the family members and preserve the assets to do good work in the community forever. If the donor is aged 70 ½ or older, he/she can donate up to $100,000 of their IRA to the Foundation without first counting it as income.

The Legacy Society...

The Legacy Society was created by the Board of Trustees to recognize individuals who have made plans to leave a gift to this community in partnership with the Richland County Foundation.

Donors may create a lasting legacy by making a gift through their estate plans, through a qualified retirement plan or IRA, through an insurance policy, remainder trust, Charitable Gift Annuity, or through some other planned gift.

The Richland County Foundation acknowledges the following generous people who have planned a legacy to their community through gifts that will eventually come to the foundation and will benefit the community forever.
